

What is a w Descriptor?

It simply documents the exact native width of the image asset in pixels. It is not a CSS layout width. It is not a display command. It is pure data.

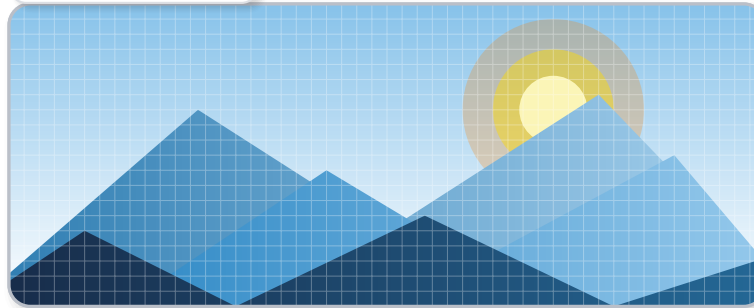

Exactly 1200 physical pixels wide

The Core Concept:

The w maps directly to the actual pixel width of the file saved on the server.

 hero-large.jpg

```
<imgsrcset="hero-large.jpg1200w" />
```